At the Christmas fair, held by the Ladies Aid of the Congregational church, about $50.00 was realized. The conundrum, "What is the difference between a Cabot old maid and the new K. of P. building?" received many answers. The correct answer, "One is wanted and not ready, the other ready and not wanted," was answered nearly correctly by Miss Marion Sharpe, who received a beautiful necklace, the handwork of Mrs. J. A. Lawrence, who originated the conundrum.

MONTPELIER

Small Fire in Joseph Poulard's Granite Plant Late Yesterday.

A slight, though dangerous, fire yesterday afternoon in the granite shed of Joseph Poulard called out the fire department. The fire was first discovered on the roof, and it is expected that it caught from a defective stovepipe. The blaze was soon under control and the damage will not be over $150, fully covered by insurance. The store house of the M. & W. R. R., which is next to the granite shed, and in which extra passenger coaches are kept, would have been in great danger had there been any wind, and the men were all on hand to aid if it became necessary.

Mrs. W. E. Terrill is spending the holiday season with friends in New York City.

Frederick J. More of Philadelphia has been a recent guest of John H. Senter. Mr. More is United States manager of the Standard Accident of Scotland and representative of the Standard Accident of America.

Miss Alice Lewis died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Little, yesterday, after four days' illness with pneumonia. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment in the North Montpelier cemetery.

Miss Julia Jern, who has been employed at the Hotel Burlington in Burlington, has returned to her home here. She is ill from overwork and the after effects of the grip and fainting twice on her way home. Between Friday and Monday she had 11 convulsions.

The members of the merchant's committee appointed to collect the money for "merchant's day" reported last night that nearly three-fourths of the money pledged had been paid in, without any particular effort on the part of the collectors, and not all the merchants who pledged their support to the scheme had been seen.

A raid was made in three different places on Northfield street yesterday, but nothing was found in any case to warrant arrest. The first house entered was that of R. Freda, the second, the house occupied by P. Clotto, and the third was a John Doe warrant. The search proved fruitless and the officers returned to the station.

The new coal chute at Montpelier Junction, which has been in operation three or four days, proves a great labor-saving device. No shoveling is necessary, unless the coal is frozen in the car and does not slide out. About 150 tons can be stored in the bin, which will ordinarily last two days. An endless chain carries the coal from the chute to the top of the structure and dumps it in the bin.

WILLIAMSTOWN

The Late Charles C. Staples Twice Enlisted in Civil War.

Veteran Charles C. Staples died on Monday forenoon last, at the age of 60 years and a few months. He leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters. He had previously buried two sons. We have from time to time noted his sickness in late months, from heart disease and dropsical trouble. Mr. Staples was a son of the late Joseph Staples, and, with the exception of service in the 8th Vermont infantry regiment of volunteers at the time of the Civil war, we think his life was lived here, principally. His first enlistment in the army was in December, 1861, in the 8th Vermont infantry regiment. He reenlisted in the same regiment in January, 1864, and was mustered out in June of 1865. For some years, he had received a pension for illness, that was finally increased to thirty dollars a month, a year or two ago. Mr. Staples had been farming for many years, and we think, had been successful in the accumulation of property. For some years past, he has lived in the pretty house in our village that he bought of David, son of the late Elisha B. Gale. He was an active man and found it hard to be laid aside from work. For his loyal service to his country in its years of greatest peril, whatever other service he may have been to the world, he will be gratefully remembered. The funeral will be held from his late home Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m.

Royal Cheney will return to Denver, Col., this week, where he has work engaged.

Granite Cutter Ralph Spencer's baby girl has been very sick of late with lung trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Ainsworth are at their winter home at Daytona Beach, Fla.

An enjoyable sacred Christmas concert was given at the Methodist church last Sunday evening. It was well attended.

Mrs. Belle Hibbard Covell's only daughter has been ill enough of late to require the services of an out of town nurse.

Edgar Martin & Co., successors of J. K. Lynde, have just put up a small building south of their store for handling gasoline.

Leo, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Edson, is about to come home on a holiday vacation from school in New York City.

Mrs. Alphus Hibbard is about to go to Northfield for the winter, to be in the family of her niece, Mrs. Leon Smith, a daughter of "Habe" Thwing, formerly of Barre City.

Carpenter Frank I. Godfrey has been doing the work of repairing the two-tenement house of Orville J. Gale, in the vicinity of the Gearson-Beckett company's stone shed.

Thomas Sheridan has had quite a long job of work as a carpenter in Montpelier in late months, and such was the good weather during the time that he lost only about an hour's time.

We are glad to hear of the excellent health of Mrs. B. F. Sill, in Barre. She will remain there during the coming vacation of her daughter, Miss Ella, who plans to come home at that time.

Miss Gertrude, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Martin, is about to close her labors at the store of Frank A. Downs, where she has worked for some four years past. Her place is to be taken by Miss Jessie Holt.

Frank C. York, long in the employ of the Gearson-Beckett Granite company as a hawser, etc., has just come back from his lockout vacation and is in the employ of Hiram S. Drury, letter carrier on route 3, R. F. D.

Walter, son of Mrs. Rebekah Lynde Simons, who recently went from here to Denver, Col., has found employment there and his wife will leave here for Denver on Tuesday of this week, much to the regret of friends.

W. A. Jones, superintendent at the Gearson-Beckett Granite company's shed, was not able to be at his post at all last week, on account of illness; but on Monday of this week he visited the office of the company.

As the public reading room in the Beckett block will be closed on Saturday next, December 25, all persons having books from the library of the Village Improvement society that they wish to return or exchange this week are requested to bring them on Friday afternoon next to the reading room.

One of our townsmen tells us the following as an absolute fact. At one time, some years ago, he was engaged in threshing grain in town and in some neighboring towns, and he recalls a certain week out of town in the time when, in the six working days, he was served three meals each day, in which baked beans played a part. The following Sunday he rested from threshing and had only two meals of beans.

Our new resident, A. N. Fellows, was at one time the successful competitor for a prize of $200, offered for the greatest number of transpositions of the words, "The ploughman homeward plods his weary way," found in Gray's immortal "Elegy." Each transposition, of course, was to be a complete and proper sentence, containing the seven words. Mr. Fellows made two hundred and fifty-two such transpositions.

Mrs. Mary Edson Little, daughter of the late Elijah Edson, and now a resident of Yonkers, N. Y., was in Washington, D. C., last October and at the quartermaster general's office learned where the grave of her late brother, George C. Edson, of Company G, 10th Vermont regiment of volunteers in the late war of the Rebellion, could be found in the national cemetery at Winchester, Va. On the 1st of November, she visited that cemetery and found the grave, No. 4239. It is marked with a marble headstone, inscribed with his name, G. C. Edson, and it will be perpetually cared for by the United States government. There are about five acres in this cemetery, and nearly five thousand persons are buried there; and, with the exception of a few children, all were in some way connected with the Civil war.

PLAINFIELD.

Rebekah Fair One of the Most Enjoyable Events of the Year.

Plainfield, Dec. 20.—One of the most enjoyable events of the season occurred last Friday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall, when the Rebekahs held a fair. The booths, which were prettily decorated, added much to the pleasantness of the hall. The booth containing aprons and fancy goods was in charge of Mrs. Walter Wells and the fish pond was successfully managed by D. H. Hollister. Miss Vina Townsend presided over the "Jack Horner" pie, and Miss Ethel Bonin had the pop corn and home-made candy in charge. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening.

A very interesting program was given, consisting of instrumental music by Mrs. E. J. Bartlett and Miss Mildred Cate, readings by Miss Fanny Martin, Mrs. George Hollister and Professor H. W. Heath of Goddard seminary; selection by the male quartet, tableaux, vocal solos by Miss Marjorie Cate, Dan Hudson and Arthur A. Harding of Boston. Special mention should be made of the reading, "The Volunteer Organizer," by Mr. Heath, and the solo, "The Forest King," by Mr. Harding.

The quilt, which has been embroidered by the "sisters" and sold by number, was won by Douglas Cook of Sunapee, N. H. The sofa pillow was won by Harry Coburn. The Belgian hares, which were given by Mrs. O. L. Martin and which claimed much attention, were purchased by E. J. Nutting. The society cleared about $70 from the entertainment. Much credit should be given the committee, Mrs. B. H. Townsend, Mrs. W. H. Martin, Mrs. Frank Jackson and Miss Carrie Hollister, for the successful result of their labor. The lodge wishes to thank the public for their interest and patronage.

L. H. Hooker, 101 Prospect street, Barre, Vt., says: "Since I first used Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago, I have recommended them to at least fifty people and have heard everyone who has used them give them a word of praise. I suffered for a long time from kidney complaint and my condition finally became so serious that I was worried. My back ached most of the time and an annoying kidney weakness existed. I used every remedy that was brought to my attention, but without deriving any benefit until I took Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Brown's drug store. At that time I used five boxes and was benefited in a wonderful manner. I have since taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on, and they have acted as a tonic to my kidneys, keeping these organs in a normal condition."
